Session Descriptions

What is Your Role as a School Director?

With the newly appointed position of Director of Eduction Audits, Vickie Rogers wants to equip school directors with the most information possible to insure success. This session will cover what it really means to be a school director, all of the tasks involved as well as what a school audit involves.

GREEA New Member On-Boarding

Come for your official welcome to GREEA and learn all of the benefits and opportunities this organization has to offer.

Meet and Greet for School Directors and Instructors

This is an opportunity for connections to be made and opportunities created. Instructors, be sure to bring information about yourself and your courses in a format to share with school directors. School directors, be prepared to explore the amazing variety of course offerings as you plan your future education calendar.

The Voice Behind Effective Teaching

Have you ever led a multi-day course and by the end experienced sheer fatigue from talking too much? Or perhaps your students comment that they cannot hear or understand you? This course will provide guidelines for taking care of your voice.

Teach More, Reach More*

This course will present opportunities to teach within and beyond the state of Georgia. Discover how to connect with REBI and NAR in order for you to share knowledge with more students.

Essential, Not Optional: If They Aren't Engaged, They Aren't Learning*

Since 2020, virtual instruction has become a mainstay. However, many students report that they do not receive the level of education that was expected. It comes down to engagement on Zoom. Bring your laptops and get ready to learn strategies on how to keep students engaged while teaching via Zoom.

Now What Do I Do?

When you encounter an unexpected occurrence which can impact your instruction, are you prepared to respond or resolve the issue? This course will provide numerous situations that have actually occurred and what can be done to overcome or deal with them.

These courses replaced the originally scheduled two-part session.
